

JUDY'S SPEAKING TOPICS

Starting Over From The Middle

What to do when everything you planned suddenly falls apart in what should be the best years of your life? In this straightforward seminar learn how to handle life's curveballs – job or career change, divorce, death of a spouse or anything else you didn't plan for that is suddenly staring you in the face.

Beauty And Her Financial Beasts

Remember the hopes and dreams you had as a little girl of living happily ever after? Growing up a princess in the real world can sometimes mean the real beast can be your money. Find out about possible "Financial Beasts" in this creative, whimsical seminar where things are not what they appear.

What Do Chocolate, Emotions & Money Have In Common?

Most women want two of these things in abundance. The third one can get us into big trouble. Can you guess which one it is? When it comes to making decisions about spending or saving your money, come to this sweet seminar and find out how not to be seduced by your emotions.

Investment Recipes

If you have ever cooked, you know that combining the wrong ingredients in the wrong amounts can spell disaster. Investing your money is a lot like cooking, you have to know what to add, when and how long to let things simmer. Come to this delicious seminar and find out which ingredients may be missing from your investment recipe.

How To Tame The Money Monster

How would your life be different if you learned about managing money and investing when you were a teenager or even younger? Do you know how to talk with your kids about money? This seminar helps answer those difficult questions that you will inevitably face like, “Mom and Dad, can I move back in?” Come learn a few tips from a kid named Ethan on how to tame the money monster.

Money Talks, What Does Yours Say About You?

Do you know someone who, from the outside, looks like they are doing pretty well – drives the nice car, wears the latest fashions, takes the exotic trips, etc.? What may look like the trappings of success could be an illusion. What you see is not always what you get. Trying to keep up with the Jones’s could sabotage you in ways you never saw coming. In this seminar learn the danger signs when money and lifestyles clash.

CAR # 0520-02988